

Fin Excellence

Within the software package, users will find complex operations on pay stubs, integration with other information systems processing documents for payments, financial records, an overview of the status of individual payments, protection against fraud during payments, as well as central records.

The module enables the provision of various forms of financial services provided to customers, for example:

- SIPO payments and disbursements (concentrated collection of population payments)
- Payment of social benefits
- Payment of pensions
- Sending money through postal orders
- Send/pay out cash by Western Union worldwide
- Payment of financial support and vouchers by the state
- Collection of court and administrative fees

Key Features

- Support for the provision of various financial services to customers
- Simple integration both with the customer's internal IS and with global financial services
- Detailed records of payments and income
- Administration of pay stubs
- Financial accounting and reconciliation

Main Advantages

- Flexibility and adaptability to various financial products provided to the customer
- Ability to integrate with different IS
- Automation of processes and clear records of financial flows